

What moves each number, once the measured values are held fixed

